"We feel honored to be connected to all the schools for more than a decade. It is our responsibility to combine the best of high school sports along with educational elements that showcase each of the schools. This year, you have an opportunity to see the game in person, on television, online. We plan to broadcast each game a number of times so there is no excuse to miss out."

As part of expanded coverage of local high schools this season, WCIU, The U will also feature the week’s matchups in short segments in prime time programming, and every Friday morning during football season on ‘You & Me’ from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m.
